If you go to the Tyrolean Oberland, you will immediately notice centuries-old castles and palaces perched on rocky outcrops. In the past, these were strategic points of the Tyrolean counties. Today, the castles invite you to explore. The Tyrolean Castle Trail aligns these pearls to form a closed circular trail in the vicinity of the Landeck basin. At each stage you will not only get to know a castle, but also numerous other historic buildings such as the imposing Trisannabrücke of the Arlbergeisenbahn, lonely natural sites such as the Kronburgschlucht, culinary specialities such as the largest distillery village in Europe, or mystical places such as the Zammer Lochputz. At the centre of the trail are the Landeck Castle, Biedeneegg Castle, Wiesberg Castle, Schrofenstein Castle ruins and the Kronburg Castle ruins. On the Tyrolean Castle Trail, we can feel how nature and history are closely intertwined to this day.

Day 2 To Biedeneegg Castle

The first stage leads you from the Landeck valley basin up to the trams and on to the Steinwiese. From there, the path leads us far above the valley floor past the Schwaighof to Biedeneegg Castle. The Upper Inn Valley is at your feet. The view of the peaks of the Kaunertal and the Lechtal Alps is unique. Exalted, the completely preserved castle: Biedeneegg Castle from the 11th century. Take the time to visit the Archaeological Museum in the town of Fließ. Then you can either go back and follow in the footsteps of the Romans, because the route is the famous Roman army road Via Claudia Augusta. This once led from Venice to Augsburg via the Reschen and Fernpass. Or you can take the public bus back.

Day 3 To Schloss Wiesberg

After breakfast you walk up to the pond floor biotope. This is the habitat of the extremely rare blue Bileks Azur virgin. Soon after, you'll be in Tobadill, from there you will finally reach the castle Wiesberg, which was built on a rock on the Trisanna in the 13th century. Two more exciting historic buildings await you: the first hydroelectric power station of the Austro-Hungarian Empire and thus the oldest hydroelectric power station in Austria and the imposing railway bridge of the Arlberge Railway. From Pians transfer back to the hotel.

Day 4 Castle ruin Schrofenstein

By bus you can reach today's starting point in Pians. You walk across the district of Quadratsch to Grins. On the Way of St. James you will reach Stanz, where the castle ruin Schrofenstein awaits you. The descent takes you down to Zammer Lochputz, a mystical gorge that you can visit for free with the TirolWest Summer Card. It's well worth a visit.

Day 5 Up to the Venet

After breakfast, you can take the Venetbahn train directly at the hotel, which takes you up to Krahberg (2,203 m) in just 8 minutes. The panoramic view from here opens up a fascinating alpine panorama in every direction. To the south, the Ötztal Alps, to the north, the Lechtal Alps, let your gaze wander in a westerly direction, we see the Riffler and the Valluga and in the east even the highest mountain in Germany greets you: the Zugspitze. You walk from the mountain station along the ridge towards Venet. But after just a few meters of altitude you turn off to the Meranz Alm, where you can relax and stop for a rest. The descent is via the small hamlet of Grist down to the secluded accommodation at the Kronburg.
